ARTICLE I. PURPOSE and SCOPE:

WHEREAS there exists conclusive evidence that tobacco smoking causes cancer, respiratory and cardiac diseases, negative birth outcomes, irritations to the eyes, nose and throat¹, and;

- Among the 15.7% of students nationwide who currently smoke cigarettes and are less than 18 years old, 14.1% usually obtain them by buying them in a store (i.e. convenience store, supermarket, or discount store) or gas station², and;

Purpose and Scope (continued):

- The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has concluded that nicotine is as addictive as cocaine or heroin³ and the Surgeon General has found that nicotine exposure during adolescence, a critical window for brain development, may have lasting adverse consequences for brain development,⁴ and that it is addiction to nicotine that keeps youth smoking past adolescence⁵, and;

- A Federal District Court found that Phillip Morris, RJ Reynolds and other leading cigarette manufacturers “spent billions of dollars every year on their marketing activities in order to encourage young people to try and then continue purchasing their cigarette products in order to provide the replacement smokers they need to survive” and that these companies were likely to continue targeting underage smokers⁶, and;

- More than 80 percent of all adult smokers begin smoking before the age of 18, more than 90 percent do so before leaving their teens, and more than 3.5 million middle and high school students smoke⁷, and;

- The Institute of Medicine (IOM) has concluded that raising the minimum age of legal access to tobacco products to twenty-one (21) years old will reduce tobacco initiation, particularly among adolescents 15 to 17 years old, as well as improve health across the lifespan and save lives⁸, and;

- The sales of flavored little cigars increased by 23% between 2008 and 2010⁹ and many non-cigarette tobacco products, such as cigars and cigarillos, can be sold in a single “dose”, enjoy a relatively low tax as compared to cigarettes, are available in fruit, candy and alcohol flavors, and are popular among youth¹⁰, and;

- Although the federal Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act (FSPTCA), enacted in 2009, prohibited candy- and fruit-flavored cigarettes,¹¹ largely because these flavored products were marketed to youth and young adults,¹² and younger smokers were more likely to have tried these products than older smokers¹³, neither federal nor Massachusetts law currently restricts the sales of flavored non-cigarette tobacco products, such as cigars, cigarillos, smokeless tobacco, hookah tobacco, and electronic devices, nor the nicotine solutions used in these devices, and;

- The U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the U.S. Surgeon General have stated that flavored tobacco products are considered to be “starter” products that help establish smoking habits that can lead to long-term addiction, and;¹⁴

- The U.S. Surgeon General recognized in his 2014 report that a complementary strategy to assist in eradicating tobacco-related death and disease is for local governments to ban categories of products from retail sale¹⁵, and;

- The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has reported that electronic cigarette use among middle and high school students tripled from 2013 to 2014¹⁶, and;

Purpose and Scope (continued):

- Nicotine solutions consumed via electronic or battery-operated delivery smoking devices such as electronic cigarettes, are sold in dozens of flavors that appeal to youth, such as cotton candy and bubble gum¹⁷, and;

- The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection has classified liquid nicotine in any amount as an “acutely hazardous waste” (310 CMR 30.136), and;

- In a lab analysis conducted by the FDA, electronic cigarette cartridges that were labeled as containing no nicotine actually had low levels of nicotine present in all cartridges tested, except for one¹⁸, and;

- According to the CDC’s youth risk behavior surveillance system, the percentage of high school students in Massachusetts who reported the use of cigars within the past 30 days was 10.8% in 2013¹⁹, and;

- Data from a National Youth Tobacco Survey indicate that more than two-fifths of U.S. middle and high school smokers report using flavored little cigars or flavored cigarettes²⁰, and;

- In Massachusetts, youth use of cigars and smokeless tobacco (12.3%) was higher than the rate of cigarette use (10.7%) in 2013 and has remained elevated since 2009²¹, and;

- Research shows that increased cigar prices significantly decreased the probability of male adolescent cigar use and that a 10% increase in cigar prices would reduce use by 3.4%²², and;

- The sale of tobacco products is incompatible with the mission of health care institutions because these products are detrimental to the public health and their presence in health care institutions undermines efforts to educate patients on the safe and effective use of medication, including cessation medication, and;

- Educational institutions sell tobacco products to a younger population that is particularly at risk for becoming smokers and such sale of tobacco products is incompatible with the mission of educational institutions that educate a younger population about social, environmental and health risks and harms, and;

- The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court has held that “... [t]he right to engage in business must yield to the paramount right of government to protect the public health by any rational means”²³.

NOW THEREFORE, this Board of Health adopts the following regulation under its authority specified in Article XXIII herein, as a preventative public health measure intended to regulate the sale of tobacco products in the Town of North Attleborough.

New applicants for permits who are applying at a time when the maximum number of permits have been issued will be placed on a waiting list and will be eligible to apply for a permit on a "first-come, first-served" basis as issued permits are either not renewed, revoked, or are returned to the Board.
2. A permit shall not be issued to any new applicant for a retail location within 500 feet of a public or private elementary or secondary school as measured by a straight line from the nearest point of the
